

Dear Supporter of Education,

Have you ever heard someone say, “Somebody should do something about that!”? Today, YOU have the opportunity to “be somebody” to teachers who serve our youth on the front lines every day. Teachers in our community are shaping our future through the children they influence. While our community knows the importance of what they do, few people know of tangible ways they can express their appreciation and support.

What’s Reach Them to Teach Them?

Reach Them to Teach Them is a faith-based 501(3c) non-profit whose mission is to motivate, and inspire people of influence to equip children to reach their maximum potential.

This fall, the majestic Tennessee Theatre will be filled to capacity for an event designed to appreciate, motivate, and challenge our educators to be...

difference-makers, an inspiration,

an example, a teacher, a somebody...

The cost of this event is $25.00 per person which includes dinner and an evening of personal challenge. Every guest will also receive a gift that ties to the event’s theme to serve as a tangible reminder of the evening’s message.

Won’t you demonstrate your commitment to the educators of this community, as well as honor educators who had a positive impact on your own life? Last year, with help from individuals and businesses in our area, we were able to fill the Tennessee Theatre with over 1600 individuals who influence the lives of our children on a daily basis. With your help, we can again provide this gift for area educators. Please consider sponsoring the people who dedicate their lives to our children so they can attend through your generous support. Your tax-deductible contribution is greatly appreciated!

Dreaming BIG on behalf of our children!
